

MARY PICKFORD AT THE LYRIC THIS EVENING

Famous Players Star Superb Plays in the Role of a Factory Girl

Sadly bedraggled and ragged Mary Pickford wearily opened the heavy door, paused before the time clock punched it, leaned heavily against the wall, wiped a tear from her half closed eye, sighed and stumbled listlessly through the second door thru which long lines of sewing machines could be seen.

"All right, Lights out!" shouted Director John O'Brien and his assistant recorded the taking of another scene for the Famous Players Paramount Production, The Eternal Grind. It is a factory drama in which Miss Pickford plays the sympathetic and touching role of the overworked, hard driven little slave of the machine, as only the highest paid actress in the world could interpret it. But in the character enacted by the celebrated star as the slave of the machine she is the mistress of everything else with which she comes in contact.

It is the story of an indomitable will battling against any odds with which she comes into contact. Mary—for that is the name of the character—has two sisters, one is a moral weakling and the other a chronic invalid. They are all employed in the same factory, the owner of which James Wharton is a grasping man who refuses to make any concessions to guard the lives or happiness of his employees. Wharton has two sons, Owen and Ernest. The former is a big, whole hearted chap and the other is worthless.

Mary's sister Amy captivates Ernest who finally succeeds in enticing the girl away from home. The invalid sister, Jane, meanwhile grows weaker and finally collapses. In helping her home, Owen first meets Mary, and the friendship ripens into love as he assists her in moving in to smaller quarters where her slender savings are expended in doctoring Jane. Realizing that the girl's life depends on her being taken out of the city, Mary goes to Wharton Sr., to beg for an advance on her salary, but is refused. Her beauty attracts Ernest, who succeeds in winning her appreciation by promised favors. He proceeds to make violent love to Mary until Amy, becoming suspicious, follows him to Mary's new abode with a revolver, bent on avenging his duplicity. When Mary discovers Ernest's relations with Amy, she takes the revolver from the girl's hand and holds him at the point of a gun while a minister is obtained. Then, concealed behind a curtain, with the muzzle of the gun pressed against Ernest's back, she forces him to go through the wedding ceremony with Amy.

But that is only one of the tremendous battles that Mary wins in her struggle against poverty and avarice in this great story which furnishes Mary Pickford with a tremendous opportunity to demonstrate her remarkable histrionic powers to the full. In support of the star there appear several notable players, among them Loretta Blake, Dorothy West, John Bowers, Robert Cain and J. Albert Hall.

LOGAN TO GET PUBLIC LIBRARY

Conditions Imposed by Carnegie Corporation to Be Met, Says State Librarian

There is every reason to believe that the city of Logan will secure from the Carnegie Corporation funds for a library building, according to Miss Mary E. Downey, state librarian, who returned to Salt Lake City recently from an inspection trip in which she visited Logan, Richmond, Brigham City and Ogden.

Miss Downey said a petition signed by more than 250 taxpayers has been filed with the council, asking that body to levy a tax for library purposes.

The city officials, she said, assured her that such action will be taken at the next meeting of the council.

AUTOMOBILE STREET PARADE TO BE GIVEN IN LOGAN THIS WEEK

Everybody Who Wants To Know What Chautauqua Is and Listen to Some of the Best Band Music of the Season, Will Avail Themselves of the Privilege Wednesday Evening.

The first big auto parade ever to be held in Cache Valley is being arranged for Wednesday afternoon of this week. A committee advertising the Chautauqua which is coming to Logan on June 14, to be with us for a whole week, will line up all of the available automobiles in a long street procession just previous to the Logan Military Band giving its mid-week concert.

John Christiansen is chairman of the parade committee and he has given out the following statement: "All persons owning automobiles will line up their machines east of the Tabernacle square on First East street facing the north not later than 6 o'clock in the evening. There will be persons there with Chautauqua flags and banners to decorate the machines."

"The Logan band will head the march, which will proceed west on First North street to Main, and then will march north one block, counter-march one block to First North, west one block on First North counter-march to Main street, then march south to Center street, west one block, counter-march to Main street then march south to Main street to First South street. The parade will then return to the band stand, in front of the Tabernacle where one of the finest programs ever arranged will be rendered.

There will be a good speaker present who will give a short, spicy talk, explaining Chautauqua and what it means to the community.

This affords one of the best opportunities for the automobile dealers that they have had this year to display their automobiles. They will all be lined up and in the parade each one will be able to compare the advantages of their car over that of other cars.

The Cache Valley general public is invited to be present at this parade to participate in the same and to attend the band concert which will be a feature of the evening's entertainment.

CONFERENCE HELD HERE ON SUNDAY

Cache stake quarterly conference was held at the Logan Tabernacle Sunday with a large attendance at all three sessions.

The principle speakers of the conference were Apostle George A. Smith and J. Golden Kimball. The afternoon session at 2 o'clock was perhaps the largest attended.

The first speaker of this session was Elder Joseph E. Cardon, recently from Independence where he has been editing the Elders' Journal. Elder Cardon gave a forceful address. He condemned the practice of the members of the Cache stake in the matter of the extremely low birth rate here compared to the number of marriages. He said the condition is deplorable and flayed the society folk who do not want to be bothered with the rearing of a family. The conditions here are nothing short of a calamity, according to the speaker. He said there is no greater blessing than to be able to bless the world with a family of sweet, noble children. Elder Cardon was outspoken in his denunciation of the street dancing carnival held a few weeks ago. He said he would be found at all times raising a voice against such revelry. He contended that the street carnival was a most disgraceful thing.

Elder A. A. Sheby the tailor, who has just returned from the Northwestern States mission also was called upon to give a talk. He spoke highly of the work being accomplished by the elders and stated his pleasure to be back home again.

Miss Florence Tarbett rendered a vocal solo.

Apostle George A. Smith concluded the talking in the afternoon. He told the bishops to give the older members of their wards a chance in the various meetings to relate their experiences.

Mrs. J. B. Rosenfield of Seattle, and Mrs. A. Zimmerman of Los Angeles are here attending the A. C. commencement exercises and visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Ostlund.

LARGE FAMILY HOLDS FORTH IN REUNION

The family of the late Apostle M. W. Merrill met in reunion at Richmond on Saturday at which time 260 descendants were present and as far as could be determined there were about 100 descendants that were unable to be present.

As the family had not met in this capacity in ten years it was a most enjoyable social gathering. A program was given in the amusement hall in the forenoon consisting of speeches by T. H. Merrill, A. M. Merrill, O. D. Merrill, and Mrs. Phoebe McNeil. Music was rendered by Orella Jensen and Lars Nelson, Annie May Merrill and two children, of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kent of Lewiston.

A family lunch was also enjoyed at noon and in the afternoon the married men showed their ability over the single men in a baseball game by winning the game by the score of 10 to 9. A basketball game was also enjoyed and there was a dance in the evening at the amusement hall.

The family organized with a committee consisting of the four oldest sons of the four families which will look after any matters pertaining to the family as a whole. This committee is composed of T. H. Merrill, Parley Merrill, C. E. Merrill and J. S. Merrill. Mrs. McNeil was appointed historian and to look after genealogical records and she will be assisted by the oldest daughter in each family of Grandfather Merrill.

LOGAN BOOSTERS MAKE TRIP TO INSPECT HIGHWAY

Franklin County Citizens Are Good Roads Enthusiasts. Many Leading Spirits Working

Saturday Messrs C. M. Harris and M. R. Hovey of the Yellowstone Highway committee of the Commercial Club, and Mr. Anderson made a trip through the southern part of Idaho to visit the various towns along the Yellowstone Highway to ascertain the condition of the road, the work being done, and get financial support for advertising the route through Cache Valley. The people in Franklin, Whitney, Preston, Dayton and all along the line are to be congratulated on the good roads work they are doing and have done.

These people have had a considerable burden to bear as they have had to construct many difficult pieces of road, while in Cache county, only a few repairs have been necessary. The people of southern Idaho are making good their promise given last spring and it is doubtful if the people of Cache County would have done as well under like conditions.

Mr. Samuel C. Parkinson a good roads enthusiast has a large yellow stone placed in front of his residence advertising the highway thru Franklin. It is the intention to get each town and city along the highway in Cache Valley to place similar stones along the route calling the attention of the tourists.

All of the southern Idaho towns and cities agreed to contribute their portion of the general expense for advertising the highway. A special Cache Valley log is being gotten out and each town along the road will be written up in a brief manner. These logs will be printed within the next few days and placed in the hotels and garages in Salt Lake City, Ogden, and Brigham City on the south, and in all the garages and hotels in the towns on the north to the park. With these logs, the large metal signs, and the road in good condition, there is no reason why Cache Valley should not receive a large number of tourists this year and many more each year in the future.

Mr. Samuel C. Parkinson, L. L. Hatch, Mayor A. B. Nash, and Mr. E. P. Monson at Franklin; Mr. S. Benson at Whitney; Mr. J. S. McCann, Mr. George L. Fall, Mayor Nephi Larson, Watkin L. Roe at Preston; and Bishop Jensen and Mr. Jones at Dayton are all very enthusiastic over the highway and are rendering much service in their communities for good roads.

WEDNESDAY IS GOOD ROADS DAY IN THIS COUNTY

Tomorrow is Good Roads Day and it is expected that every loyal citizen who can possibly get away will be at the Commercial Boosters Club at 8 p. m. prepared to do a full day's work. This is a nation wide movement and the sentiment for good roads is becoming stronger every year.

The merchants have been visited and practically every firm has agreed to send one or two men to work on the road. It will be necessary to get every single handed man possible in order to keep the large number of teams busy. A large amount of loose material has been blasted at the pits so the loading of the wagons will be much easier than last year.

The refreshment committee will be on hand in the forenoon and afternoon with meat and cheese sandwiches etc., so that none will become fatigued.

The Roads committee met Monday evening to make a final check on the number of men and teams which had been promised.

The commencement exercises of the U. A. C. will be held today at 10 o'clock. All those desiring tickets can get them by applying at the registrar's office.
